DETERMINED ON WAR.

President Barros of Guatemala Anxious to Go to War With Mexico.

The Country on the Verge of a Revolution—Trouble in Nicaragua.

Quezeltennango, Guatemala, Oct. 22.—It is known that the opponents of President Barrios have distributed over five hundred rifles in the rural districts within a fortnight. The concentration of troops by Mexico has aroused fear among the people. The reports that spies have been sent here by Barros have evidently frightened him.

Guatemala, Oct. 22.—It is positively known that President Barros is sending agents throughout the country to pacify the people, who are tired of his government. The movement of troops towards the frontier continues, notwithstanding denials by the government. If war is declared between Mexico and Guatemala a revolution undoubtedly will break out at three different points, and President Barros will be among the first to be killed.

Comitan, Mexico, Oct. 22.—Many people are arriving from Guatemala to avoid the horrors of war, which is considered certain. It is reported that Barros, determined to have war, is recruiting men throughout Central America to serve against Mexico. He has been swindled by an enterprising Yankee, who obtained a large sum of money on agreeing to bring filibusterers from Texas and Louisiana, and who, it has been discovered, is a fraud and is now safe in Mexico.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Oct. 22.—The country has been flooded with revolutionary literature, inciting the people against President Bonilla. The government undoubtedly is frightened. Bonilla's future policy is not known, but he fears Barros' influence. President Barros of Guatemala is reported to have threatened Bonilla if aid is not given the former in case of war in Guatemala.

Managua, Nicaragua, Oct. 22.—A band of revolutionists have been caught by the government forces, and it is reported that three of the captives have been shot.

Corinto, Oct. 22.—Fourteen persons have been arrested on telegraphic orders from Managua. It is claimed they are implicated in the new conspiracy.

LATE CABLE DISPATCHES.

Figaro Asserts That Roumania Has Joined the Triple Alliance.

London, Oct. 22.—The Italian bark Gaiseppine Accam foundered last evening between Cowes and Beachy Head. Three were drowned.

Oudin, the celebrated baritone, has been stricken with paralysis.

A Batavia dispatch says the Volcano of Galoongong is again in eruption and several villages have been destroyed by the flow of lava.

Figaro asserts that Roumania has joined the triple alliance composed of Austria, Italy and France.

The socialist congress at Berlin to-day debated the question of the payment of salaries to socialist members of the Reichstag. Several delegates contended that the [illegible] never three thousand marks ought to be the maximum, with a view of putting a stop to the dangerous influence of educated mercenerales. A heated debate ensued.

Forty bodies have been recovered from the colliery at Anino, near Buda Pesth, where an explosion occurred on Saturday. Thirty persons were seriously injured.

WAR IN THE EAST.

Japanese Officials Open British Correspondence—Not Believed in London.

London, Oct. 22.—A Shanghai dispatch says the opening of dispatches addressed to the British consul at Seoul by Japanese authorities there, has resulted in sharp diplomatic correspondence between England and Japan.

A Tien Tsin dispatch states that it is reliably stated that negotiations for a peaceful settlement of the Chinese-Japanese trouble is being carried on at Seoul. Nothing is known at the Chinese legation in London of these alleged negotiations and officials do not believe such negotiations are in progress.

Condensed Dispatches.

The Marchioness of Queensbury has lodged a petition for the nullification of her marriage. The case will shortly be heard in chancery.

[illegible] Erwin, a Chicago millionaire, who was mayor of that city in 1876, was found dead in bed yesterday.

George V. Hankins, the king of Chicago gamblers, has retired after having made two million dollars.

THE CZAR IS IMPROVING.

Encouraging Reports Received at European Centres from Levadia City.

His Death Not Expected to Occur in the Immediate Future as Stated.

London, Oct. 22.—The Russian embassy here is in receipt of a dispatch from Livadia, dated last evening, which states that the condition of the czar has much improved.

Paris, Oct. 22.—Galignani's Messenger publishes a Livadia dispatch signed by Grand Duke Vladimir, and timed 1.12 p.m., saying the condition of the czar has shown an improvement in the last two days, but is still very grave.

Copenhagen, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Livadia says the czar passed a good night and was stronger to-day.

Vienna, Oct. 22.—Fremdenblatt says Grand Duke Alexis, who arrived yesterday evening on the way to Livadia, received a dispatch from the czarewitch saying the czar felt better, but otherwise his condition was unchanged.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that early in his illness the czar had a long interview with the czarewitch, in which he outlined the policies that should be pursued in foreign and domestic affairs and insisted upon the czarewitch's marriage to Princess Alix of Hesse.

The czar expressed his earnest desire that the marriage should take place without delay in order that he might give his blessing to the couple before his death.

A special dispatch from St. Petersburg to the Neue Freie Presse says that the czarina, who had watched constantly until to-day at her husband's bedside, has had a stroke of apoplexy. The Grand Duchess Xenia, her eldest daughter, has broken down under the nervous strain, and is obliged to pass most of the time in bed. The czar was tapped to-day for dropsy. It is improbable that the Princess Alix will reach Livadia in time to be married to the czarewitch before the czar's death.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—A semi-official dispatch to the North German Gazette says that the press has been hasty in treating the czar as dead, and that his death is not expected in the immediate future.

Athens, Oct. 22.—The king of Greece will leave for Corfu to-morrow. His chateau is nearly ready for the occupancy of the czar.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

Striking Cloakmakers Attack and Beat Men in Brooklyn.

New York, Oct. 22.—The striking cloakmakers of Brownsville, as part of the 20th street ward of Brooklyn is called, expressed with revolvers yesterday afternoon their determination to accept nothing but unconditional surrender by their former employers to their demands. Five of the riotous strikers are locked up and will be brought up for trial to-day. Bullets flew thick and fast for several minutes, but all went wide of the mark. Brownsville's population includes many of the striking cloakmakers and now that they have nothing but a grievance to occupy their attention they spend the greater part of their days and evenings in the streets talking of their adamantine employers. There was a large gathering of malcontents in the vicinity of Eastern Parkway and Stone avenue yesterday afternoon. Their discussion had become very animated, when George Schoen, of 182 Garfield Place, Brooklyn, who is employed by the Cloak Manufacturers' Association of this city, approached the men, who were the leaders of the disputants, and urged them to return to work at the old rates and to urge their friends to do the same. When his mission became known the strikers was furious and there was in a second [illegible] be closed.

Two of the strikers leaped on Schoen and began beating him. Schoen struggled for a while and then began shooting. The strikers were also armed and a fusilade began, which ended only when three seven-chambered revolvers had been emptied, and in which nobody had been hurt. Schoen started to run away, trying to reload his revolver, but the crowd howling and threatening rushed at him. His chances for life were slight but on the appearance of the police the strikers fled. Wulf Barnett, of 39 Powell street, who is a designer for the cloak manufacturers in New York, was seen in the vicinity of the passage at arms. He was in a light carriage. The strikers at once divined that he, like Schoen, was there for no good purpose to their cause, and with a yell, they set upon him before he realized his position. The strikers had dragged him out of his carriage. They then began to throw stones at him and would probably have killed him then and there had not help arrived. The men who had led the assault on Barnett were arrested.

The Rev. H. Shaler, for 65 years a Methodist minister, died at Kempsville recently. He was the oldest Methodist minister in Canada, and perhaps in the world.

THE FATHERLAND.

Resume of Events of Last Week Throughout the German Empire.

Emperor William Spends a Busy Time Flitting From Town to Town.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—The feverish activity of Emperor William was never better exemplified than during the last week. The early part was occupied with flitting from town to town, attending different ceremonies, while he has been, during the latter part of the week, engaged by various public functions in connection with the visit of King Alexander of Servia. The rapidity of His Majesty's movements was especially shown at the beginning of the week. He spent Sunday at Friederichsruhe, the castle residence of ex-Empress Frederick. Monday he arose at an early hour and started for Darmstadt, to visit the grand ducal family. On Tuesday he went to Wiesbaden to unveil the statue of his grandfather, William I., and to open the new royal theatre at that place. After a busy day there, he travelled by special [illegible] and arrived in Berlin in the morning, in order to take part in the ceremony of mailing to the staffs the 132 flags destined for the new fourth battalion of infantry. Another couple of busy days followed, including the interesting ceremony of blessing and presenting these flags, gala dinners and other ceremonies, during which he found time to attend to some business as that of today, which found him engaged with internal politics.

At noon to-day the emperor received a deputation from the Farmers' Alliance of East Prussia. His majesty was attended by Count Eulenberg, president of the council of ministers; Dr. von Lucanus, chief of the emperor's civil cabinet, and Herr Heinrich von Leyden-Cadow, the minister of agriculture. After listening to the spokesman, the emperor made a reply. He expressed his satisfaction that the deputation had come to him personally, and assured them he would never relax his care for agriculture. He afterward conversed with each member of the delegation on farm questions. He bade adieu to the deputations with many cordial expressions of good will.

In spite of outward appearances and newspaper statements, it is asserted that the conflict between Chancellor von Caprivi and Count Eulenberg respecting the anti-socialist movement is not settled. On the contrary, the situation is said to be more critical than ever, and it has been asserted that at a recent conference of the ministry bitter words were exchanged between the chancellor and the Prussian premier, owing to the latter insisting on more severe measures than Caprivi was disposed to introduce in the reichstag. The conference broke up with the ministry in discord. Since then Emperor William has brought his influence to bear, and the dispute was patched up. But Caprivi is still, to some extent, at variance with the Prussian premier, and inclined to resign the chancellorship rather than submit to the reichstag measures with which he has no sympathy himself and which, moreover, he is convinced the reichstag would not accept. Eulenberg, who has the countenance of the emperor, is credited with the desire to frame measures upon the most comprehensive basis, including a revision of the election laws excluding unfit persons from the polls and raising the voting age, in addition to placing a restriction on the constitutional rights of assembly or association, as well as restricting the liberty of the press.

The socialists have fully grasped the drift of these measures, and the socialists' organ, Vorwaerts, threatens that the party will become out and out anti-governmental at the elections for the diet as well as for the reichstag. Hitherto the socialists have refrained from active interference in the diet elections.

A deputation from the municipal council of Dantzic arrived at Berlin to-day to present to Caprivi a diploma of freedom of that city. Dantzic is the first city to confer this honor on the chancellor.

A committee headed by Prince Scoenaich Carolath has been formed to receive voluntary contributions to a fund to furnish Professor Behring's anti-diphtheria serum cure to diphtheric patients. The municipal authorities of Berlin have allotted the sum of 6000 marks to be devoted to supplying the serum to the four principal hospitals of the city. The serum is now prepared on a large scale at the professor's laboratory in this city. [illegible] Surgeon Caspar, until recently a professor in the veterinary college at Charlottenburg, superintends the complicated and difficult mode of inoculating with the fluid the flesh of horses needed for the purpose. The cure is to be introduced into the municipal hospitals of this city, Hamburg, Dresden, Koenigsberg and other cities.

Prince Bismarck will leave Varzin for Friedrichsruhe on November 1, but before that time he will receive a joint deputation from Pomerania and Hanover.

Ex-Empress Frederick arrived to-day at the castle of Rumpenheim, to be present at the accouchine of her daughter, Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse, who was delivered of a son.

The socialists are preparing for their part convention at Frankfort-on-the Main to-morrow, and a fierce struggle for supremacy is expected between the two hostile wings, led respectively by Bebel and Liebknecht and by Voltar and Gultonberger, the latter two being the leaders of the moderates.

The Prussian government has consented to a national celebration on December 9 in honor of the 300th anniversary of Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, and the Portestant clergy everywhere are in preparation for the event. The Catholic papers are attacking the government for consenting to this celebration.

WAR ADVICES BY MAIL.

Decree in Reference to the Punishment of Li Hung Chang.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—Advices from Corea by the Pekin are meagre. Naval successes have diverted public attention from military movements in northern Corea, and little has been heard respecting the progress of the Japanese army since the capture of Ping Yang was announced. No conclusive statement as to the strength of the Chinese troops engaged has been announced and no official attempt made to reconcile the conflicting estimates of various generals, which allow a speculative range of from 12,000 to 14,000.

Reports of prisoners captured have also been diminished to a figure well within the hundreds. The general opinion is that the army was practically wiped out of existence and that it might have been held captive had the Japanese so desired. A list of the Japanese losses at Ping Yang is now made up. The officers killed were eight, none higher than captains of infantry. One hundred and fifty-four non-commissioned officers and privates were also killed. Twenty-six officers were wounded, the highest being a major of artillery, and 381 noncommissioned officers and privates. The missing number only 40. A telegram from the front states that the pursuit of Chinese fugitives was vigorously continued until the Japanese cavalry reached Kasan, a town on the northern inlet of the Yellow sea. Shanghai newspapers report as an undisputed fact that news has been received of the mutiny of six thousand troops near the border of Corea and their flat refusal to march in the direction ordered by their officers.

An imperial decree in reference to Li Hung Chang has been issued as follows: "The Wojen having broken faith with Corea and forcibly occupied that country the throne sympathized with its tributary kingdom in her distress, and so raised an army to attack the common enemy. Upon Li Hung Chang, imperial high commissioner of Pei Yang, having the control of the forces, there rested the entire onus of being prepared for emergencies. But instead he has been unable to act with the speed and promptness in his military preparations so that much time has elapsed without any important results. He has indeed failed in the trust reposed in him by us. We therefore command that his decoration of the three-eyed peacock feather be plucked from off his hat and that he be stripped of his yellow riding jacket as a slight punishment. It is necessary then that the said imperial high commissioner exert himself to the utmost and decide what should be done; that he direct and hasten the various provinces to the front in order that all may put forth their best strength to chase and rout the enemy. In this way Li Hung Chang may hope to redeem his former errors."

TERRIBLE FLOODS IN CHINA.

How Great Was the Loss of Human Lives Will Never Be Known.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The steamer City of Pekin brought news of a terrible flood in China. When the rains ceased the waters covered a space of the best agricultural land 150 miles long by from 10 to 30 miles wide. The loss was enormous, and in regard to human life the North China Daily News says: "How great was the loss of life caused by the flood will never be known. How many were drowned, how many killed by falling houses and what number perished in the attempt to save something of their household effects of these there will be no report. Accounts of couriers being lost are coming in, of families tying themselves together lest they should be separated, and so perishing; of some driven from the first to the second story by the rising waters, engulfed by buildings falling upon them, and of others attempting to dip water from the torrent and being carried away by its flood. The loss of life has fallen mainly on women and children, as was to be expected. The officials here sent loads of provisions to those shut up in their village homes, as upon islands, but the relief will be insufficient except for a short time.

"The query whether this great disaster may not be a blessing to the nation is, as announced, the Japanese attempt to make the country round Tientsin the seat of war, since it might happen with them as with the Tai Ping rebellion in 1853-4, the proposed seat of war being too wet to sit down on."

ANCIENT CHINESE MINE.

Bodies of victims of four centuries ago Found.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The North China Daily News, received to-day, is authority for the following: "In the province of Anhui a party of miners recently struck an ancient shaft, where history records that a great catastrophe occurred 400 years ago. Miners on reopening the old shaft came upon upwards of 170 bodies of former workers lying where they had been overcome with foul gas four centuries back. The corpses were as those of yesterday, being quite fresh looking and not decayed in any way. There faces were like those of men who had just died. On an attempt being made to move them outside for burial they one and all crumbled away, leaving nothing but a pile of dust and remnants of stronger parts of their clothing. The miners, terrified, fled from the spot, and though there were valuable deposits of coal in the shaft nothing would induce the superstitious men to return to their work."

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. Try, try again."

TO BE INDICTED.

The Men Who Receive Illegitimate Santa Fe Rebates.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The government investigation into the alleged violation of the interstate commerce law by the Santa Fe railway in the payment of rebates to shippers resulted yesterday in indictments against five persons. These indictments, following close upon those of the Baltimore & Ohio officials at Pittsburg, have created a decidedly uneasy feeling among the officials of various roads in the city. Inasmuch as President Little's examination of the Santa Fe books showed a shortage of seven millions, a large part of which is supposed to have gone into rebates among those indicted, Nelson Morris, the Chicago packer, ex-president of the railway; Reinhart, of Santa Fe, and Isaac Thompson, cattle shipper, Kansas City. Bench warrants for their arrest will probably be issued to-day. The indictments charge them with receiving the rebate.

FRANK DEKUM DEAD.

Well Known Portland Banker Died Last Week.

Portland, Oct. 21.—Frank Dekum, the resident of the Portland Savings bank, died at his home at ten o'clock on Friday night of Bright's disease. Mr. Dekum has been in poor health for several months and one week ago he took to his bed. The recent financial trouble which his bank passed through is thought to have hastened his death. Although the bank was solvent and reopened in a few months after the closing of its doors in July, 1893, the constant worry told heavily on his health.

SEA CLIFF MYSTERY.

Speculations as to the Deaths of Mr. Titus and Miss Duff.

New York, Oct. 20.—The bodies of Ellett Livingstone Titus and Mary S. Duff, who were found dead in a bath house at Sea Cliff, L. I., on Wednesday night, were brought to Brooklyn yesterday. The funeral of Miss Duff took place at two o'clock to-day at St. Ann's Episcopal church in Clinton street, the Rev. Reese F. Alsop conducting the services. The funeral of Mr. Titus was held at the same hour at the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Hodgkins, at 440 Clinton street. None of Mr. Titus' family has come from the south to attend the funeral. Dr. Hodgkin said last night that some of them had been expected. Mr. Titus' mother is an invalid, and his brothers are engaged in business. Both bodies were buried in the respective plots of the families of deceased at Greenwood. The people of Sea Cliff, and the few summer residents who are left there, flocked about the bath house near the Duff place yesterday and discussed the tragedy. There were a few who did not believe that Miss Duff's death was caused by heart disease, and that Mr. Titus, insane from sudden grief, killed himself when he found that his betrothed was beyond recovery. There are several theories as to the manner of her death. It is not at all likely that the mystery will be cleared away at the inquest to be held at Sea Cliff on Tuesday night. Much interest is attached to the bottle of chloroform which, it is said, was found in the pocket of Mr. Titus' coat by Dr. Burns. The theory accepted by the friends of Mr. Titus and Miss Duff, is that Miss Duff complained of a headache and that Titus gave chloroform to her to relieve her. They say that he was constantly troubled with headaches and always carried a bottle of chloroform. It is said that a few days ago, when Mrs. Duff, Mary's mother, was ill, Titus told her that a few whiffs of the fluid would drive away the pain, and that she refused the treatment, saying that the stuff was dangerous and that she did not want it around the house. The latest theory advanced by the people of Sea Cliff is that Miss Duff went into the bath house to get her bathing suit. She was to leave Sea Cliff for her home in Brooklyn the next day, and had been busy packing her trunks. It is believed that she decided to get her bathing suit on her return from a walk and that while in the bathing house she again complained of a headache. Titus then proposed that she should inhale chloroform. Dr. Burns said yesterday that he made a careful examination of Miss Duff's body and found the heart weak and flabby, so weak that death would quickly follow the inhalation of even a few drops of chloroform. When asked if it was possible to determine by examination whether or not death was caused by chloroform, Dr. Burns said, "Yes, that can be determined by a chemical analysis of the blood." "Why did you not make such an examination?" "Under the circumstances I did not think it worth while," said the doctor. Dr. Burns said he found a two-ounce bottle half filled with chloroform in the pocket of the dead man's coat, with a Brooklyn druggist's label on the bottle. According to Dr. Burns, Miss Duff died within half a minute after the chloroform was given to her.

FREE TRADE AND THE UNION JACK.

To the Editor:—Explaining economic truths to people pecuniarily interested in perverting them, is like teaching mathematics to a horse—simply a waste of time. But when the editorial columns of a newspaper are assiduously employed in the discreditable task of misleading its readers upon vital questions affecting their welfare the trick should be promptly exposed. In the Colonist of Thursday, under the head of "The Price," the economic acrobat undertakes to explain to his readers the meaning of Free Trade to Canada, in the following choice extracts:

"In the first place free trade means exposing the manufacturers of Canada to unlimited foreign competition. It means that this country will be made the slaughter market for the protected goods of the United States, France and Germany, and the cheaply produced goods of Great Britain. Is it to be expected for a moment that the manufactures of Canada, which have been during the last sixteen years built up with so much care, can withstand this flood of foreign competition? Free trade for Canada means the ruin of nearly all its manufactures and all that ruin involves.

"Then free trade means the sacrifice of the greater part of the customs revenue. If we are to have English free trade, not more than six or seven millions of the revenue can be raised by customs duties. The fourteen millions or so that will be needed to replace the customs duties sacrificed, must be raised by new taxes of one kind or another. Are Canadians ready to submit to an income tax, to a stamp tax, to land and other direct taxes in order that they may have English free trade? This is certainly part of the price which they must pay for that trade policy. They must sacrifice their manufacturing industries, which sacrifice involves many other sacrifices, and they must submit to burdensome direct taxes, which will not even indirectly or incidentally help trade internal or external."

The protectionists of Canada are not afraid of either France or Germany (with whom we have very little trade) nor are they really very much afraid of the United States. It is the cheap and good commodities of the old country they are desirous of excluding. Free trade does not mean the destruction of manufactures, but it means death to monopolies such as the cotton combine, whose stock in 1892, opened at 132 and rose in that year alone to 226, nearly one hundred per cent. increase in the value of stock. In the same year a share for share allotment took place with a payment of $10; in other words the stock was watered to the extent of $90, or 90 per cent., and that watered stock stands to-day at 140. Is this a legitimate business? Besides these enormous profits which the tariff enables the concern to steal from the people, it made a clear million dollars last year simply by the fall of raw materials, and from which the people failed to receive a penny's worth of benefit. Is this the sort of a swindle the Colonist is anxious to perpetuate? Take the iron monopoly. The duties were enormously increased in 1887 by Sir Charles Tupper (who is reported to be largely interested in the Londonderry mills) but in spite of a duty averaging 70 per cent. there is no practical increase in the output. Staffordshire crown bars are quoted in Liverpool at £5 17s. 0d. per ton, while bar iron made in Canada (an inferior article mostly manufactured from scrap) sells at $46 per ton. The combine fixes the prices, and as usual fleeces the people to the full extent allowed by the duty of 70 per cent. ad valorem and specific. The entire concern only employs 831 men. These rolling mills employing 831 men are manufacturing bars from imported scrap and are charging the people of Canada the price of Staffordshire bars, plus 50 per cent. Is this the kind of swindle the Colonist is afraid will go to the wall under free trade? There are many others of the same sort. The Consumers' Cordage company is an American concern, of which Mr. John Fitzwilliam Stairs, M. P. for Halifax, is the manager in Canada. A few years ago Mr. Stairs was a poor man operating a rope walk in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia. Mr. Stairs carried Halifax and had the Dominion government place a prohibitory duty upon binder twine and cordage. To-day Mr. Stairs is a millionaire. Where did he get his money? Out of the people, of course. Still the Colonist would have the swindle continue.

"If we are to have English free trade fourteen millions must be raised by direct taxation." Admitting the Colonist's figures to be correct, the payment of fourteen millions under an equitable form of direct taxation is infinitely to be preferred to the present system, which robs the people of $78,000,000 by indirect taxation. Is it not clear that the people would save $64,000,000 annually by the arrangement? And the cotton combine, the iron combine, the cordage combine, and the many other combines, would, like other people, have to be content with a modest 8 per cent. or so of profits. I say that the Canadian people are ready to submit to any form of taxation which will end the system that robs them of $78,000,000 per year for the enrichment of powerful and grasping corporations which have the government by the throat.

"It must be remembered that the introduction of free trade will not give the farmers and stock raisers a single new market, neither will it raise the price of farm products or stock by a single cent. The foreign markets which the farmers and graziers have now will be the only markets they will have then. The home market, owing to the loss or the great diminution of the manufacturing industries, will not be as good as at present."

The farmer at present has to send his surplus products abroad, where they are sold in competition with the farm products of the world at large. Under the free trade system he would be able to buy in the same market in which he is compelled to sell, and he would save 40 per cent. by doing so. At present he sells in the cheapest market and is compelled to buy in the dearest.

When the economist on the Colonist ventures to discuss free trade and direct taxation he should not fail to inform his readers of the enormous amount they are paying in indirect taxation under the operation of the protective swindle.

CHABLIS-SHIRAZ.

THE PAST AND THE PRESENT.

To the Editor:—In the past for a small consideration our citizens at the Mechanics' Institute had access to a library of many excellent volumes, besides the local journals, the London Evening Mail, Pall Mall Budget, Weekly Dispatch, etc., etc., and more especially the magazines and reviews of the mother country, the emanations of the master minds of the age, with their admirable adaptations to expand the mind, and in colonial life to prevent it becoming parochial and circumscribed. What a contrast does this present exhibit to that past! Doubtless commendable efforts with the limited means available are being made to cause the public library to meet present intellectual requirements, but in this age of progress—in this age of which the late Lord Brougham spoke of as "the schoolmaster being abroad"—how this present suffers in comparison with the past! Then the reading public were with the appetite that formerly prevailed for intellectual gratification. In the past public lectures would bring a satisfactory and appreciative audience—at the present time lectures are at a discount.

With a heavy demand upon the public revenue for support of public schools, there never in the meantime in our city was a less desire for intellectual enjoyment. Nothing is more illustrative of the change that has come over the city than the encouragement given to the sensational character of theatrical entertainments with its pictorial representations of men in all sorts of attitudes, and stage ladies in unbecoming costumes. Such representations are a positive affront to a community with any pretensions to intelligence. Notwithstanding our elaborate system of public schools, our formidable array of churches, not forgetting the Y. M. C. A., the W. C. T. U. and the Salvation Army, so far as social amelioration is concerned, we of this city at the present have retrograded, rather than progressed.

EXODUS OF THE PIFFERARI.

Italian Musicians Shake the Dust of Paris From Their Feet.

The last of the Pifferari have shaken the dust of Paris off their feet and left musicless the cafes of the Quartier Latin, where students are wont to spend their nights, says the London News. The assassination of M. Carnot is the cause of their emigration. Our Paris correspondent relates how, a few days after this terrible event, the Italian street musicians, about one hundred and twenty in all, held a meeting to consider the situation and agreed that it was impossible for them to earn their living in France on account of the public indignation against Italians, which has been smoldering ever since "ungrateful" Italy joined the Triple Alliance.

After waiting no longer than was necessary to raise a little money, to sell their furniture and spare clothes, the Pifferari have left Paris with their violins under their arms or their guitars slung across their shoulders. A few, of course, have gone to London, but the bulk have emigrated to the United States, where itinerant musicians still become rich. A last batch of seven Italian musicians were to be seen one night recently at the St. Lazare terminus waiting for the Havre train, giving a parting kiss to Francesco. Francesco has been for many years a professor of street music for his young countrymen—in fact, a sort of musical crammer. In two months he taught his pupils to play a serenade by Schubert or a waltz by Strauss without their knowing a single note of music. To an interviewer he confided that ever since that terrible event his pupils had been unable to play at cafes and restaurants. "They were insulted and threatened everywhere, and for their own safety were compelled to abandon their national costume. The last of the Pifferari has left Paris."

The only way to cure catarrh is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and tones up the whole system.

TUPPER'S MISTAKES.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper has succeeded once more in waking up the wrong passenger. In his letter to Col. Prior he most desperately fell foul of Thomas Ladner under the impression that it was he who presented an address to Mr. Laurier, while it happened to be his brother. This rather amusing blunder would teach anybody else than Tupper a little as to the value of discretion in handling this subject of the Fraser fisheries, but that gentleman seems to be above taking a lesson. His blunder has had the effect of drawing a letter from the gentleman whom he mistakenly and insultingly attacked, which seems all the more severe from being mild in tone. We do not know how Sir Charles will be able to meet this arraignment from Mr. Ladner:

Then, about those unanswered telegrams, it would have greatly simplified matters had Sir Charles told us what telegrams he replied to, for it is generally accepted by the public, that, for all practical purposes, those telegrams were not answered, and if Sir Charles peruses the local newspapers, as he tells us he does, he could not fail to have noticed the many adverse criticisms directed against his department for keeping canners and fishermen in continued suspense. Why, right up to the last moment the inspector of fisheries in New Westminster had received no instructions as to whether the sockeye season was to be extended or not. On August 26 (season closing August 25), I waited in New Westminster all day, thinking that the reply telegram might have been accidentally delayed, and believing from my personal knowledge of Sir Charles that he could not have been so discourteous as to refuse an answer to all the telegrams sent.

We respectfully suggest that the time and trouble which the minister has since devoted to writing foolish letters would have been much more profitably employed in securing ordinary courteous treatment for the men he has been villpending. Another important criticism comes from Mr. Ladner:

If Sir Charles was to set about building more hatheries, and thus maintain our salmon supply, I for one would have greater confidence in his good intentions. The fishing license was originally levied for the support of hatcheries, and this year some two thousand licenses were issued, which at $10 each means $20,000. Out of this $20,000 the department supports [illegible] less than twenty-six hundred dollars, and I hardly suppose that the difference between those two amounts ($17,400) goes for the maintenance of our fishery inspector and the few subordinates under him. Why cannot more hatcheries be supported out of this direct taxation on the fisheries? Or, failing that, why should not part of it be utilized in bonusing guano works, and thus settle the vexed offal question?

Apropos of this phase of the subject, it is perhaps worthy of note that when the minister undertook to criticize Mr. Munn's quotation of statistics he falsified the reports of his own department. Whether this was ignorantly or intentionally done we cannot say, but in either event the action shows how incapable Sir Charles Hibbert is of discussing the question intelligently and impartially. In fact, no man can see what possible chance there is for the minister making gain by his letter writing. He can hardly be so stupid as to hope that he will thus convert the canners to his way of thinking, and if he has any idea that he can arouse a prejudice against the canners among the remainder of the population he is making a woful mistake.

PRECIOUS METAL CASE.

Judgment in Baldridge vs. Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company.

As this is an important judgment we give it in full.

This is a motion by the plaintiff to restrain the defendants from interfering with the plaintiff in his alleged right to mine for gold in a certain placer claim in Alberni district, known as Blue claim, and by consent of both parties the motion was turned into a motion for judgment.

On 21st June, 1894, the plaintiff, a free miner, located a claim on China creek, Alberni, and duly recorded the same with the mining recorder at Alberni, and all necessary preliminaries were complied with to enable the plaintiff to prosecute his work. On the 23rd June, 1894, the plaintiff was summarily ejected by the defendants.

The defendants' case is that by Act 47 Vic., chapter 14, the legislature of British Columbia granted certain lands in Vancouver Island, which include the land in question, to the crown as represented by the Dominion government to aid in the construction of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo railway, and that on the 21st April, 1887, the crown by deed granted to the defendants all the land granted to them by the provincial legislature, and claims that by the terms of the deed and act they are entitled to all the precious metals in or under the said lands.

The statute in question was passed to carry out an agreement which had been arrived at between the provincial and Dominion governments and was confirmed by a Dominion statute of 47 Vic., chapter 6.

By section three of the provincial act the land granted to the Dominion is defined by metes and bounds, and is stated to include all coal, coal oil, ores, stones, clay, marble, slate mines, minerals and substances whatsoever.

The grant from the crown to the defendants uses the same terms as to the land and its appurtenances as that contained in section 3.

The attorney-general, on behalf of the plaintiff, relies on the judgment of the privy council in the case of the attorney-general of British Columbia vs. the attorney-general of Canada, 14 appeal cases, 294.

Mr. Pooley, Q. C., for the defendants, argues that although gold and silver are not expressly mentioned yet they are included in the terms mines, minerals and substances, and points out that the terms lands would have been quite sufficient to pass everything but the precious metals; that the terms used sufficiently indicate an intention to include both gold and silver, especially as in the then existing and antecedent legislation of the province the term mineral was used to define the gold and silver.

By the gold mining ordinance of 1867, chapter 123 of the consolidated acts of 1877, the term mine is stated to mean any vein, stratum or natural bed of auriferous earth and in the mineral act, chapter 82 of the consolidated statutes of 1888, section 2, minerals include all minerals, precious and base (other than coal) found in veins or lodes or rock in place, and whether such minerals are found separately or in combination with each other.

And the crown lands act, chapter 98, consolidated acts 1877, section 80, and chapter 93, consolidated acts 1888, sections 95 and 96, it is enacted that nothing therein contained should be construed so as to interfere with the rights of miners under the mineral act or subsequent acts relating to gold mining.

The use of a general term to indicate the precious metals in these statutes does not in my opinion extend the meaning of the term minerals when used in any other act. The interpretation clause in these acts is merely a dictionary to define particular expressions in the acts to which it is attached, and unless there is any clause incorporating the mineral act in the statute in question in this case I do not consider that I can give to the terms used any other meaning than their ordinary and legal signification.

If I might hazard a conjective why the special terms which are used in the present act were inserted it is possible that the parties interested in the agreement did not desire to have their right to coal and coal oil questioned, as coal is expressly excepted in the mineral act and does not pass under the term mineral then.

Gold and silver mines, as Lord Watson says in the case of attorney-general of British Columbia v. the attorney-general of Canada, until they have been aptly severed from the title of the crown and vested in the subject are not regarded as partes soli or as incidents of the land in which they are found. The question is have these mines royal been severed from the title of the crown by the language used here. Under the term mines, minerals and substances they would not pass—the statute in question commences with coal [illegible] in my opinion all minerals and mines which would pass under the terms of lands in ordinary cases in a grant to the subject and has no reference to mines royal.

A further question arises in this motion and that is have the defendants the right to prevent the extraction of gold and silver from their lands owned and occupied by them by free miners.

The rights of miners to enter upon land for mining purpose is apparently not limited to crown lands, (see sec. 11 and 12, placing mining act, 1891).

Independent of statutory authority no person has a right to trespass on private lands, but sec. 95 of the crown lands act, 1888, authorizes free miners to enter upon any lands in the province to search and work gold and silver, following in substance the language used in the act existing at the date of the grant of these lands to the crown.

These lands in my opinion are therefore subject to the right of entry by free miners to search for the precious metals, subject to the conditions precedent contained in sec. 11 of the placer mining act, 1891, which conditions both parties admit have been complied with. I therefore give judgment for the plaintiffs with costs.

AGAIN IN JAIL.

Percy Whittall Arrested for Larceny—Another Suspicious Check.

Percy Whittall is again in the toils. He is booked and held for the larceny of a watch, and by to-night another count charging him with the more serious crime of forgery may be entered against him. His lordship went out on a little time with O. A. Ragstad, and while they were together Ragstad lost his watch and chain. The next seen of it was when Whittall put them up at the Carter House for drinks. The police were interested in the case and Saturday evening Whittall was arrested.

This morning a suspicious check for $25, which Whittall is said to have forged and passed, turned up, and the police are working on the case this afternoon. Acting Chief Walker would not make any statement about the case, but said by night he would know whether he would proceed against Whittall or not. In police court this morning Whittall's case was postponed for three days to allow the investigation of the check case.

DOWN ON THE LEADERS.

Gompers and Powderly Attacked by Speakers and Writers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 22.—The national organ of the Knights of Labor, as well as the speakers of the organization, are pouring hot shot into President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, and Past General Master Workman Powderly because the former in a recent speech said that the late railroad strike was a little hasty and petulant, and because Mr. Powderly at the same meeting said that it was a bad strike, although it had brought less harm than the great sugar strikes at Washington. The organ of the Knights wants to know what these men mean by animadverting upon men who bravely took up a fight in which they participated so long as leaders, and declares that the American Railway Union took up the cudgels for outraged humanity in the face of greater difficulties than either of these two leaders dared to face. It is declared that Gompers never led any strike, and that therefore his courage has never been tested. The attacks of the Knights upon Gompers and Powderly are likely to be resented by the members of the American Federation of Labor, as well as by that portion of the Knights of Labor that still remains loyal to Mr. Powderly. In the latter connection it is said that the ex-General Master Workman has received no less than fifteen requests from as many district assemblies for permission to include his name among their delegates to the next meeting of the general assembly, and which opens in New Orleans early in November.

THE TURF.

COMING WEST.

New York, Oct. 22.—Only a few weeks remain for the harness horses to race on this side of the Rocky mountains. By the end of this month all the regular circuits will be completed. A few desultory meetings through the southwestern states, extending as far as Texas, continue till well along November. The milder climate of the Pacific coast offers inducements that the eastern trainers are beginning to realize more fully and there is a strong prospect of a general exodus to California, to follow the close of the active campaign on this side of the continent. This will, of course, be confined to the crack stables, which either contain champions at present, or have the material for record breaking in the future. The immediate cause of this desire to pass the winter on the sunny slope is the marked and continued success of Monroe Salisbury. This experienced breeder makes his home in the Southern part of California, at Pleasanton, where he spends the closing weeks of each year and the early months of the succeeding one. In preparing his annual tour for the summer and fall circuits in the east, it is understood that, after exhausting all the available time for special matches and exhibitions on this side of the mountains, Allx will be taken to California. Directum will, of course, go back to his native state, and the two greatest trotters should draw immense crowds at San Francisco, Los Angeles and other racing centres along the Pacific coast. The Illinois trainer, M. E. McHenry, who has the [illegible] owner John R. Gentry believes that a winter in California will benefit the champion stallion. He will probably go there soon after the meeting at Louisville, where John R. Gentry is to meet Robert J. It will be remembered that Goldsmith Maid, Rarus, Harry Wilkes and other eastern bred trotters, took kindly to the climate and pure air of California, and there is no reason why the latter generation should not be similarly benefitted by a transcontinental trip and sojourn in that land.

HALF MILE RECORD.

The last number of the Breeder and Sportsman says, Quirt's half mile heat record of 0:47 1-4, 0:47 1-2 took the place of the world's record, held jointly, of Eclipse Jr., and Bogus 0:48, 0:48. The first named, however, ran three heats in 0:48. Quirt's dam Trifle was well known in British Columbia, being owned by A. McConnell of Kamloops. It was said that she was a range horse. After he sold her she beat everything on the coast, including Chinaman, who then held the record and who was purchased by a Victorian with the object of defeating Trifle. Ophir, at present owned by Munro Miller of this city is the sire of Bogus who formerly held the half mile record.

—The government is going to have a hard time explaining to some constituents on the island the reason for the way the recent log scalers' examination at Vancouver was conducted. First, there was not a man from the Island on the board of examiners, and strange to relate, those who claim to have early and inside information say not an Island man passed the examination. People will be slow to accept the findings as correct, for some of the shrewdest and most successful loggers on the island are pronounced unfit to scale a boom of logs. Speaking to a Times man one of the gentlemen who took the examination, said: "I do not care particularly for myself, but I regard the whole business as manifestly unfair, and the way the Island men were treated as extremely unjust. The board were all Mainland people, but I would not have cared if they had been practical loggers, but they were not. They were mill men. They gave us a boom of 'ad culled logs to scale, and would not let us cut into them to see where they were solid and where they were "conky." Ask any practical man if he would scale that way or accept such a scale. The [illegible] by its slipshod method of doing this business permitted some of its best friends and supporters to be branded as incompetent, and will, no doubt, hear from the matter again."

STURDY IMMIGRANTS.

The First Contingent of Norwegians for Bella Coola.

If all future immigrants are of the same desirable class as the fine healthy lot of fellows who arrived in Victoria on Saturday, and who are at present domiciled at the Dominion Hotel, the province may safely congratulate itself upon the selection. There are eighty-three in the party and they are bound for Bella Coola. During a conversation with the leaders this morning they expressed themselves satisfied with the terms and conditions of settlement and spoke in high praise of the kind and courteous treatment received en route. The conditions of settlement are as follows: A settlement must consist of not less than thirty families, and each family must have at least $300 in money. The government will lease for a period of five years 160 acres of land to each family, rent free. If at the end of five years improvements have been undertaken amounting to $5 per acre each family will receive a free crown grant of 160 acres. The government also pledges itself to construct a wagon road through each settlement. The terms are of the most liberal and satisfactory character, and the advantages which must ultimately accrue to the province will be substantial. Recruiting settlers from the Northwestern States is an excellent move, since families coming from Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin are very much to be preferred to those coming from Europe direct. They are already inured to the hardships of climate and pioneer life, and are, therefore, exactly the material needed to develop the resources of British Columbia. They are farmers, lumbermen and fishermen, therefore no more desirable a locality than the Bella Coola could have been selected. Should their new home come up to their expectations—and the Rev. Mr. Sangstadt assures them it will—another batch of three hundred will follow in the spring. They all appear to be "well fixed," and many possess a couple of thousand dollars. The Rev. Mr. Sangstadt held the Lutheran service last evening in the spacious dining room of the Dominion Hotel, at which several Norwegian citizens attended.

THE MISSING IVANHOE.

Three Steamers Searching for the Overdue Ship.

No definite tidings has yet been received as to the whereabouts of the missing ship Ivanhoe. The last seen of her was when the tug Tyee cast loose from her ten miles southeast of Cape Flattery. At that time there was a strong breeze from the southeast, and the Ivanhoe stood off shore towards the southwest. The bark Oregon, which passed out of the straits only five hours ahead of the Ivanhoe, arrived in San Francisco on October 5. The bark Germania, which sailed from Seattle October 4, arrived in San Francisco October 16. If the Ivanhoe has been disabled she will undoubtedly be sighted by the revenue cutter Corwin, which has started from San Francisco close along the coast, while the cutter U. S. Grant has started from Port Townsend with the intention of running about three hundred miles out to sea and then running southward, and the tug Pioneer has started to search the west coast of Vancouver island. It is confidently hoped that one of these vessels will either find the missing ship or discover evidence of what has become of her.

The Ivanhoe had on board besides her captain and crew, four passengers, viz., Mr. F. J. Grant, editor of the Post-Intelligencer; Mrs. Maria Brace, Mrs. Irene Mullen and Mr. Allen S. Folger. She is commanded by Captain E. D. Griffin and her crew is as follows: Mates, James J. Toohig, C. H. Christensen; carpenter, William Andolin; two Chinese cooks; sailors, Hans Stevenson, Mr. Stewart, Frank Zarno, H. Johnson, E. Lewenroth, George Derdner, Samuel Harp, J. J. Ohamesson, M. C. Gunderson, Lenart Holm, W. Herriman, John Anderson, Martin Jacobson.

THE CONSERVATIVE SHIP.

The Fat-Witted Minister of Fisheries—Mgr. Satolli's Visit to Quebec.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—Those members of parliament who have been promised high positions of emolument by the government, and who have so far not been able to get them, because the constituencies they represent cannot be opened with safety to the party, should take example and encouragement from the way in which Honore Robillard, M. P. for this city, brought the ministers to time the other day. Mr. Robillard is the French member for Ottawa. This city elected two representatives to the Dominion parliament. The city is not divided into ridings. For some time past Mr. Robillard has had trouble with the ministers as to the distribution of patronage. Some days ago one of the ministers gave a position to a man who was not the nominee of Mr. Robillard. The latter demanded an explanation. The minister told Mr. Robillard to call at his office on a certain day and the explanation would be forthcoming. The member for Ottawa did so. The minister called in the man who had got the government appointment in the presence of Mr. Robillard, and asking him if he were not a French Catholic, while the other man whom Mr. Robillard wished to see in the position was a French Protestant. To this query the head of the department was answered in the affirmative. Mr. Robillard got very indignant at the action of the minister, and declared to know hat religion had to do with the appointment. The result was that a large sized quarrel sprang up at once on the spot. Nor did it end there. Mr. Robillard wrote out his resignation, got two members of parliament to witness his signature, and placed the same in the hands of the premier. The resignation was to be forwarded to the speaker if reparation and an apology were not forthcoming from the offending minister. Mr. Robillard has now in his pocket a very humble letter of apology, and in consequence thereof he continues to represent the city. But Mr. Robillard does not hesitate to say that if it were not for the pressure brought to bear upon him by his French-speaking countrymen, who were alarmed lest they might be deprived of a representative at the present time, he would not have withdrawn his resignation at all. Indeed, he would have sent it direct to Mr. Speaker, rather than be a follower of such a spineless and incompetent administration.

It would be interesting to know how many representatives there are in the present parliament who are merely holding their seats with the promise that they will be rewarded for the same at the expense of the country as soon as it is possible to do so. A Conservative member representing an Ontario constituency said that there were about twenty members from this province who were not only candidates for positions, but had the promises in their pockets of offices under the government. This, he said, is why the government are unable to open Cardwell and Lisgar. If Cardwell were opened, he went on, then the other nineteen in this province would demand that they be also shelved and their constituencies opened. This is a case, if ever there has been one, of the rats deserting the sinking ship.

It is announced here that the visit of Mgr. Satolli, the papal abiegate in the United States, to Quebec next week is not of the private character that it was stated to be, but of considerable political significance. In the first place it is said that Mgr. Satolli will inquire into the question of education, which has been more or less agitating the Catholics of Quebec for years past. Friction has existed between a certain section of the laity and the clergy. The clergy themselves are also divided into the two schools, the progressive or liberal school, which predominates in Rome to-day, and the reactionary or old school, which still has a great hold in Quebec. The liberal school, for instance, hold that the clergy should accept all progressive reforms in schools. In Quebec the great majority of schools are under the control of ecclesiastical teachers. Some of the laymen have been insisting that the schools ought to be brought up to the best modern standards, rather than be wholly under the control of the church. Judge Jette, of Montreal, Hon. Francois Lanpolitics as well as in church matters, have been the leaders of those who thought that teachers in schools ought to have the necessary qualifications and certificates to enable them to teach, rather than be, as is now the case, members of religious orders, with in many cases but scant ability to fulfil the duties of a teacher. To carry out this idea examinations and certificated teachers would be the result. The church, or rather the reactionary party, is afraid that this would cripple its control. Some two years ago an attempt to compel all teachers to pass an examination was opposed by the bishops, who are members of the Quebec board of instruction, and who held that if the priest of the district is satisfied with the qualifications of the teacher that ought to be sufficient. Among the progressive party are Cardinal Taschereau and his coadjutor, Mgr. Begin, who are in favor of certificated teachers, etc., in schools. The clergy, however, with very rare exceptions, belong to the reactionary school. So it is contended that the visit of Mgr. Satolli is in regard to the establishment of primary schools. In politics the reactionary party are principally Conservatives.

Sir C. H. Tupper has evidently no [illegible] in the near future. The so-called interview which was sent out to the government organs of the province, in respect to the fishery troubles, shows this, and that he has for once acted wisely as far as he is concerned. There is, however, something mighty small in a minister sitting coolly down at his desk and dictating his opinions of the cannerymen and others to his private secretary, then forwarding them through the official correspondents to the official organs, knowing that he will neither be subjected to any questions nor asked for any explanations by those who may be looked upon as representing the aggrieved party. Had Sir Charles gone to the Pacific coast he would not have dictated that article. In that case he would have met the men whom he villified face to face, and the presence of knighthood could not have deterred the cannerymen from showing the minister and his man Friday that there is even something about salmon fishing in the Fraser river that they are not acquainted with. The province of British Columbia is not the only part of the Dominion that has to suffer from the maladministration of the department of marine and fisheries. There is not a part of the Dominion where inland fisheries or coast fisheries exist but is at loggerheads with the belligerent head of the department. The whole Maritime Provinces have been quarreling with him over nets and close seasons ever since he took charge of the department. Quebec and Ontario have also had delegation after delegation at the department over the very same thing. It must not be supposed that there is any politics in the matter either. The representatives of British Columbia in the house know that each session Conservatives have been laying before the minister the story of their constituents as to the foolishness of his department. Lieut.-Colonel Tisdale, for one, took about two hours last session to lay the grievances of the fishermen before the minister. But what satisfaction did he get? The old story; that they knew nothing about the business and that he and Mr. Wilmot knew it all. Lieut.-Colonel Tisdale, may, from his interviews with the minister of marine, although the latter happened to be absent at the time. That was no fault of the colonel's. The Conservative press, also, has in many instances been outspoken in regard to the fishery regulations, but there are some of the subsidized organs that evidently consider it their duty to fawn upon the minister of marine and fisheries, no matter how much his bullheaded determination or lack of knowledge in administering the affairs of the department may injure a large section of the commercial community. If the cannerymen don't succeed they should go into "mixed farming."

FOOTBALL.

MAY BE DEPORTED.

Washington City, Oct. 19.—Considerable interest is manifested in treasury circles over the newspaper statements that a number of players in the Baltimore professional football team are Englishmen, and previous to coming to the United States were engaged in professional football playing in England. Whether these players came to the United States under contract or not is unknown to the treasury department officials, who look after the importation of aliens, but as far back as August of this year the treasury officials were asked if professional football players under contract would be allowed to land. The application came from Baltimore from a person who wished to import a couple of the English teams to play in the United States. In answer to this request Secretary Carlisle telegraphed that in the opinion of the department, football players were not artists, and coming into the United States under contract would be prohibited from landing. Whether these players now engaged by the Baltimore team are part of the players who desired to come into the United States last August is not known at the treasury department, but the immigration bureau of the treasury department in the interest of the American support, would probably investigate the allegations made.

To-night the officials of the Baltimore baseball and exhibition company assert that they have never had any correspondence with Secretary Carlisle in relation to bringing into the United States professional football players from England or elsewhere. The Baltimore team was engaged by W. R. Stewart of Detroit, and its members signed their first contract with the Baltimore company on October 13 in this city. Nearly all the men are residents of Detroit. John McKendrick, one of the players, captained the Minneapolis team two years ago, which won almost every game it played and held the supremacy in the west. He and most of the men now engaged with the Baltimore team were with Captain Stewart when he won the championship of the United States and Canada from the Toronto team.

THE RING.

AMICABLY SETTLED.

New York, Oct. 19.—The dispute between over the insertion of a clause in the articles of agreement to govern their coming battle relative to the Police Gazette belt, has been amicably settled. Captain Glori, the manager of Fitzsimmons, called at the Herald office to-day and said that "Bob" had decided to allow the disputed clause to remain unchanged. The captain brought with him the articles of agreement signed by Fitzsimmons and they were immediately forwarded to Corbett for his signature. The stipulations in regard to the club having the right to name the referee and size of gloves to be worn by the principals have been modified. The consent of both men having been obtained, the "club shall name the referee, but he must be satisfactory to both principals," and the gloves to be used must weight "five ounces" are the way the stipulations referred to now read.

"We did not intend to allow Corbett to crawl out of the fight on a little technicality like that," said Glori, "so we decided to clinch matters at once. We want it distinctly understood that we do not want anything to do with the belt. If Bob defeats Corbett he will make the latter a present of the belt."

A BY-LAW.

To Authorize the Sale of Lands Within the City of Victoria upon which Taxes have been due and in arrear for two years.

Whereas it is expedient that all lands or improvements or real property within the limits of the Corporation of the City of Victoria, upon which municipal taxes have been due and in arrear for two years, shall be sold, and the proceeds applied in the reduction of such taxes:

Be it therefore enacted by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:—

1. The Collector of the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria is hereby authorized and directed whensoever taxes on any land or improvements or real property have been due for two years preceding the current year, to submit to the Mayor of the City of Victoria a list, in duplicate, of all the lands or improvements or real property liable, under the provisions of this by-law, to be sold for taxes, with the amount of arrears against each lot set opposite to the same, and the Mayor shall authenticate such list by affixing thereto the seal of the Corporation and his signature, and one of such lists shall be deposited with the Clerk of the Corporation and the other shall be returned to the collector with a warrant thereto annexed under the hand of the Mayor and the seal of the Corporation, commanding him to levy upon the land or improvements or real property for the arrears due thereon with his costs.

2. It shall not be the duty of the collector to make inquiry before effecting a sale of lands or improvements or real property for taxes, to ascertain whether or not there is any distress upon the land, nor shall he be bound to inquire into or form any opinion of the value of the land or improvements or real property.

3. The collector shall prepare a copy of the list of lands or improvements or real property to be sold, and shall include therein, in a separate column, a statement of the proportion of costs chargable on each lot for advertising and for the commissions authorised by this by-law to be paid to him, and shall cause a copy of such list to be printed for a period of one month preceding the date of such intended sale in some newspaper published in the City of Victoria.

4. The advertisement shall contain a notification that unless the arrears and costs are sooner paid he will proceed to sell the lands or improvements or real property for the taxes on a day, a time, and at a place named in the advertisement.

5. The collector shall at least two months before the time of sale, also deliver to or deposit in the post office to the address of the owner of such property which is to be sold for taxes aforesaid, or to the agent of such owner, a notice in writing of the amount of taxes due, and that the property is to be sold for arrears so due, and in case the address of the owner or agent is unknown, a notice to the same effect shall be posted upon the land intended to be sold, and also at least two months before the time of sale, post a notice similar to the above advertisement in some convenient and public places, that is to say, at the Council Chambers, Victoria, and in the Post Office Building, Victoria.

6. The day of sale shall the the thirty-third day after the first publication in a newspaper of such list, exclusive of the day of such publication, except in case the thirty-third day shall fall on a Sunday or holiday, in which case such sale shall take place on the following day at the Council Chambers, in the City of Victoria, and shall begin at 12 o'clock noon.

7. If at any time appointed for the sale of the lands or improvements or real property, no bidder appear, the collector may adjourn the sale from time to time.

8. If the taxes have not been previously collected, or if no one appears to pay the same at the time and place appointed for the sale, the collector shall sell at public auction so much of the land or improvements or real property as may be sufficient to discharge the taxes and all lawful charges incurred in and about the sale and the collection of the taxes, selling in preference such part as he may consider best for the owner to sell first, and in offering such lands or improvements or real property for sale, it shall not be necessary to describe particularly the portion of the lot or section which shall be sold, but it will be sufficient to say that he will sell so much of the lot or section as shall be necessary to secure the payment of the taxes due, and the amount of taxes stated in the advertisement shall in all cases be prima facie evidence of the correct amount due.

9. If the collector fails at such sale to sell such land or improvements or real property for the full amount of arrears of the taxes due, he shall at such sale adjourn the same until a day be publicly named by him, not earlier than one week nor later than three months thereafter, of which adjourned sale he shall give notice by advertisement in which the original notice was advertised, and on such day he shall sell such lands or improvements or real property for any sum he can realize, and shall accept such sum as full payment for such arrears of taxes.

10. If the purchaser of any property or parcel of land fails immediately to pay the collector the amount of the purchase money, the collector shall forthwith again put up the property for sale.

11. Immediately after every sale the collector shall return a list of the arrears satisfied by such sale to the Clerk of the Corporation, and shall at the same time pay in the proceeds to the Treasurer of the said Corporation.

12. The collector shall be entitled to five per centum commission upon the sums collected by him as aforesaid.

13. This by-law may be cited for all purposes as "The Victoria Real Estate Tax Sale By-Law, 1894."

Passed the Municipal Council the 15th day of October, A. D. 1894.

TACOMA'S FAIR CLOSED.

Success As Far As the City Was Concerned.

Tacoma, Oct. 21.—Saturday was the last day of the Interstate fair, and was celebrated by the presence of one of the largest crowds of the season. The gates will be kept open until November 1st to allow exhibitors and concessionaires to dispose of their goods. A 15 cent rate of admission will be in force. Many of the amusement concessions will remain until the 1st.

Briefly recapitulated, the success of the Interstate fair enterprise is a financial wonder.

An accountant, after going over the fair association books, reports less than $6000 taken in in cash contributions from Tacoma. But in the teeth of apathy at home the fair succeeded. Lumping the total attendance at 140,000—a fair estimate—Seattle contributed the lion's share outside of the city of Tacoma. Of the paid admissions Tacoma contributed about half. Counting in transportation expenses, Seattle paid more to see the fair than Tacoma did.

Henry Bucey, director general, lumps the amount of cash brought direct to Tacoma through the fair at $250,000, and another $250,000 to Tacoma and the fair, about 50 per cent. going to each, spent by visitors about town and at the rair, about 50 per cent. going to each. It is noticeable that the bank clearings swelled during the fair period, and while there are outstanding bills against the fair association to-night, all of which it is claimed will be paid, still the city of Tacoma has that $500,000 cash virtually to its credit, as the exhibitors and show people at the fair will not carry away over $50,000 at the utmost, while most of them will not concede that they will any more than quit even, considering the money paid by them for buildings and stands, particularly the cyclorama structure.

Figuring the attendance at 140,000 and averaging the total money spent by each visitor or Tacoman who entertained him at $2 at the fair and down town at the hotels and stores, the total bulk of money turned loose through the medium of the Interstate fair exceeds Mr. Bucey's $500,000 estimate.

NEWS OF THE INTERIOR.

Items of Interest From the Press of the Mainland.

Midway Advance.

The Black Channel company, Granite creek, are said to be working in good pay since making the opening in the upper part of the tunnel, which has given them good air to work in. This is a deep bench digging, which has been prospected every season since 1880, and is a gold proposition.

Near the junction of the Tulameen and Similkameen a number of companies have lately been doing preliminary work preparatory to hydraulicing next season. No less than four have secured ground for that purpose.

Angus Lamonte and Pete Guernderson are reported to have "struck it rich" on the Similkameen, six miles above the falls.

James Riordan, a well known prospector, and one of the best known hydraulic men in the province, has been working a "bucking hydraulic." This is a contrivance which works automatically, storing water and discharging the same, thereby facilitating the removal of large quantities of gravel that would otherwise have to be removed by hand. It is the first to be operated in British Columbia, and is being operated about six miles above Princeton.

The well known and extremely genial H. B. Cameron discovered during the season a valuable hydraulic bench about nine miles above the forks of the Similkameen, and has sold an interest in the same to Mr. James McLaren, a coast capitalist, and it is said to be their intention to work this prospect next season.

Samples of ore from the Cordick claim in Summit camp, located this summer for Captain R. C. Adams, of Montreal, give $15.29 in silver and $16.35 in gold, or a total of $31.64 per ton by assay of Professor J. T. Donald of Montreal, and $25.98 in silver and $8 in gold, or a total of $33.98 per ton by assay of E. E. Burlingham of Denver. Colo. The ledge is twelve feet wide and the samples represent the entire vein.

Mr. Charles Klemme of Tacoma is in town. He is interested in the old Tacoma, which has been re-located and called the Midway. Mr. Klemme has several claims in the Mathow and is organising a joint stock company to handle them.

Captain Wood of Milwaukee, capitalist and mining expert, accompanied by Mr. W. T. Thompson, came down from the Greenwood and Copper camps on Sunday, both of which were thoroughly inspected by the former.

The fires of the season have, we are informed, greatly facilitated the settlement of Trinity valley, by burning off scrub and underbrush.

The clean up made by the Nelson Hydraulic mining company on Forty-nine creek proved that the virgin gravel carried $5 to the cubic yard.

The new bridge at the forks lately erected by Mr. McDougall was washed away by the recent high water caused by the heavy rains of two weeks ago.

A resident of Midway received a communication which caused much amusement from Post Office Inspector Fletcher this week, to the effect that his department might entertain the idea of a weekly service between Midway and Marcus provided the cost did not exceed $5 per trip. Considering that Midway and Kettle river have at present a semi-weekly service to Marcus, to which everybody pays 50 cents a month, and saves money by doing so, as two cent United States stamps are used, the idea of exchanging this for a weekly service created no little merriment.

The company on Newton creek (south fork of Granite creek) are working four men opening up their diggings with the intention of hydraulicing next spring. This is a gold proposition, although small specks of platinum are met with, the large deposits of the latter metal being found on the Tulameen river.

Revelstoke Mail.

The premier and Mrs. Davie passed through town yesterday morning on their way to Ottawa, where the Hon. Mr. Davie goes to attend the fishery conference. He will take advantage of the opportunity to confer with the Ottawa authorities upon minor matters of joint interest to both governments. He expects to return in about fifteen days.

Mr. L. B. Hamlin, the provincial engineer engaged on the river bank, returned from Victoria on Wednesday, and immediately set to work on his plans and specifications, which he completed yesterday. They were forwarded to the premier this morning, and Mr. Hamlin will await instructions. It is expected that active work will begin in about two weeks.

The government has reserved until further notice the land on the left bank of the Columbia one mile east of the mouth of Canoe river, Big Bend, and from this point extending due nort two miles, west two miles, south two miles, east to the Columbia, and following the north bank to the starting point.

Including the men working at the flume, there are now about seventy men employed by the Hall mines on Toad mountain.

The masonry work on Captain Moore's concentrator near Three Forks has been completed, but no further advance can be made until the lumber can be delivered by the railroad.

A contract has been entered into for shipping one thousand tons of ore from the Slocan Star to the N. & S. railway station at Three Forks by the 1st of January, 1895. Shipping will commence as soon as sleighing is possible.

At the Consolation mine, on French creek, they are going over some ground already worked, where the gold still pans out well.

Kamloops Sentinel.

Mr. M. Gaglietto has gone into the new enterprise this fall of shipping potatoes to the coast. On Thursday the first car load went forward, to be followed by another probably on Saturday from Ducks, and on Monday by another from Kamloops. In all he expects to ship about five carloads. This is the first time potatoes have been shipped by the car load from Kamloops, and if the enterprise is undertaken yearly it will offer inducements for the raising of a greater quantity of "spuds" in the Kamloops district than has been heretofore.

There have been two companies incorporated this year to operate hydraulic mines in the Similkameen district, the pioneer of these being the Stevenson Gold and Platinum Hydraulic Mining company, limited, with a capital stock of $1,000,000, in $100 shares. Mr. Robt. Stevenson, the organiser and president of the company, with Mr. W. L. Hogg, of Montreal, the secretary, arrived in Kamloops on Friday last, preparing to begin work. Mr. Stevenson has been east for two months getting eastern capital interested in his venture, and has succeeded in securing ample means to develop the property with all possible haste.

Hon. Theodore Davie, with Mrs. Davie and family, came up from Victoria on Monday morning and left for Ottawa on Friday morning's train. While here they visited the provincial home and the industrial school, and on Tuesday afternoon drove to Tranquille to the farms of Mr. Fortune and Mr. Cooney. Mr. Davie goes to Ottawa on some departmental business which he wishes to settle before the house meets on November 12th. One question is the protection of the Columbia river bank at Revelstoke. The provincial government have sent up Mr. Hamlin, a civil engineer, to make a survey of the bank and prepare estimates. The attorney-general intended to appear before the Supreme Court of Canada on behalf of the province when the question of the control of river fisheries, raised by the Ontario government, comes up for argument, but the hearing of the case has been set for next term of court.

GERMAN OPINIONS.

Speculation as to the Policy of the Czarewitch.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—The impending death [illegible] interest in political circles. It overhangs like a cloud the future political attitude of Russia in affairs which closely concern Germany. When the czar held the political reins Russia's policy could more or less be foreseen by statesmen here, and his personality was recognized in a great measure as a guarantee of peace. But with the advent of the czarewitch the future is obscured, as there is the greatest conflict of opinion respecting the views he may hold in regard to the best foreign policy for Russia. The opinion, however, in well-informed circles, among people who have been in personal contact with the czarewitch, is that it would be a great mistake to regard him as the enemy of Germany. The czarewitch has shown no predilection for any particular nation, and certainly not for France. No anxiety would exist were it certain that Russia's foreign relations would continue to be directed by the present council of ministers, of which the majority have been propven not to be inspired by the traditional sentiment of enmity toward the German people.

As a probable indication of the czarewitch's views upon general politics, considerable attention is directed toward the character of his education. The views of the governor of his studies, General Danielovitch, are keenly discussed as the key to the czarewitch's opinions. According to many people, General Danielovitch is an ultra-reactionary and an orthodox Pan-Slavist. The Cologne Gazette, however, in a long article, evidently inspired, gives a description of General Danielovitch which is utterly at variance with this summary of his character, and which reports him as being a man of noble mind, high culture and profound sense of duty, who has educated his pupil without bias; although during the last years of his governorship the hatred of Russia against the Germans rose to the highest pitch, he studiously abstained from imparting to the czarewitch any such aversion.

According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg, published in the National Zeitung, and according to special information from a medical authority at Livadia, the czar, during the last 48 hours, has been seized with a series of convulsive attacks, accompanied for several hours by unconsciousness. These attacks are due to the passage into the blood of secretions which the kidneys can no longer carry off. The czar is also described as suffering from great weakness of the heart, and also to frequent attacks of congestion of the lungs. This blood-poisoning is now recurring with alarming frequency. Temporary rallies may intervene, but death cannot long be delayed.

S. P. Smith, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

WAS A GREAT GAME.

Victoria Defeats Westminster in the Final Lacrosse Match Played at Vancouver.

Darkness Intervenes But Not Before Victoria Had Secured a Good Lead.

Although the referee has not yet given his decision in their favor—which he no doubt will do—the Victoria lacrosse team are justly entitled to the title of champions for 1894. At the Hastings Point grounds, Vancouver, on Saturday afternoon, they met and vanquished the team from New Westminster, who have been their most formidable opponents during the season just closed. There were over 5000 people present and although a majority of them naturally favored the Royal City team, being Mainlanders, there were very few to be found, after the match, who did not think that Victoria was entitled to it. The match, it is true, was not finished, the umpires declining to act any longer on account of the darkness. The score at the time was three to two in favor of Victoria. It was no fault of the Victoria men that they were overtaken by darkness, as they were on the ground ready to play at 2 o'clock as agreed, while the Royal City men did not arrive until 3:15 and then managed to delay the game for another half hour, because one of their men had not arrived. On these grounds Victoria has formally claimed the match and cite as a precedent the decision in the Capital-Shamrock match which decided the eastern championship last year. Like Saturday's match one of the eastern teams did not arrive on the grounds on time, and darkness overtaking them the match was given to the team that was there on time. However, Referee Quigley, on Saturday evening, told Captain Mackenzie of the Victoria team, that if he could produce telegrams or letters that Westminster agreed to start the game at 2 o'clock, his decision would be in Victoria's favor. Those telegrams are forthcoming so the enthusiasts can yell Rah! Rah! Vic-to-ri-a!

More people saw the game than had ever before witnessed a match in the west. Victoria was represented by nearly 700 people, most of whom went up by the Islander on Saturday. There was about the same number from New Westminster, a few from Nanaimo and along the line of the C. P. R. and several thousand from Vancouver. Most of the Victoria people were on the grand stand and they cheered their team to the echo, being assisted by their friends from Vancouver and the Nanaimo contingent. The New Westminster quarters were in another portion of the grounds and they too encouraged their team with cheers and other expressions of enthusiasm. The Vancouver support was about equally divided between the two teams. At first the backing of the Victoria team had to give small odds to get any bets, but finally the men from the Royal City became a little more confident and bets were even, a large amount being wagered, some on the general results and some on the games.

The clock had hardly struck two, the time agreed upon for starting the match, when the Victoria boys appeared on the field in their sweaters and took a little preliminary practice. They never looked better able to play lacrosse and it is doubtful if they were ever in better trim. After waiting half an hour they began to wonder whether they were going to have any opponents, and the spectators, too, began to get impatient. Another half hour and still the Westminster team did not appear and the people were preparing to go home, knowing that at the best the match could not be finished before darkness interrened and besides it looked very much like rain, which, however, did not deter them from waiting for the match. Finally at 3:15 the Royal City bus drove into the grounds. The Victoria team who by this time had returned to the club house, came out on the field again and were given an ovation, but they still had a long wait before them. Ryal, Westminster's star home player, had been unable to leave with the team, and Gow, the captain of the team, being afraid to start without him, filled in the time until his arrival by refusing to agree upon a referee. He suggested as referee C. B. Lockhart, who he knew the Victoria captain would not accept under any circumstances. Mr. Mackenzie had spent several hours in New Westminster the day before, trying to decide upon a referee but they would not meet him. Gentlemen from Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster used their influence with Captain Gow to have him accept E. A. Quigley, who all admitted was best fitted for the position, but Gow would not listen to anyone until a cab drove into the grounds with Ryal. As soon as Ryal arrived Gow called out his men and seemed as well satisfied with Mr. Quigley as anyone. It was shown during the game that the choice was a good one, the game being impartially refereed and [illegible] rough play being forbidden. At one time four men were sent to the fence for getting a little [illegible]. One of these, Spain, of the Westminster team, kept on playing after having been ruled off but the referee caught him before much damage had been done. One of the mistakes of the referee was rather unjust to Victoria, although undoubtedly unintentional. Cambridge of Westminster had been ruled off for striking Morton, who was unable to play after receiving the blow. Victoria wished to put Marshall on in place of Morton but the referee refused to allow it. This is unusual as there is no reason why the team which loses a man through the fault of an opponent should suffer therefore. The referee appointed J. M. Bowell and C. N. Davidson umpires and they both gave satisfaction, not one ruling of theirs being disputed.

Game No. 1 was fast and furious, Westminster starting off with a rush, doing some very pretty passing, but the Victoria defence was impregnable, C. and W. Cullin and Belfrey doing some grand work in withstanding the attacks made on their goal by Ryal, Cambridge and Dalgleish. Several times the ball was sent from Victoria's fidge to centre where Blight, Morton and the Williams brothers were holding their own and generally sending the ball down nearer the Westminster flags. Cheney, however, during the first part of the game, relieved almost every time, Coldwell, [illegible] and Stuart Campbell also helping. Finally, however, Ditchburn began to gather in a few of the sky-scrapers that were sent down by the Victoria defence and field men and several hard and systematic attacks were made on the Westminster goal by Macnaughton, Ditchburn, Eckhardt and Frank Cullin. Twice the ball struck the goal keeper, Coldwell, in the body, saving the game. For a short time the attack was transferred to the Victoria goal, Spain being the principal aggressor, but the defence was too strong and they kept passing the ball to the field. Blight made a good run and by dropping the ball on the flags recommenced an attack on Westminster. Cheney relieved and sent the ball across the field, where Lewis, Dalgleish, Ryal and Cambridge did some pretty team work but to no purpose, several of the shots that passed the defence being neatly stopped by W. Cullin, who all through played a star game both between and behind the flags. After one of the attacks on his goal he passed the ball down the field and gave the Victoria home, assisted by Patterson, Morton and Blight, a chance to get their combination to work and the attack was furious, Coldwell and Cheney stopping well but being unable to take the ball from Eckhardt who played a hard steady game. The ball went from Ditchburn to Eckhardt, then to Macnaughton, who shot but missed, but the home did not lose the ball and after some tossing it was again passed to Macnaughton, who sent it through before the defence knew that he had it. Time, 20 minutes.

It took but two minutes to settle the second game. After the face the ball went down to the Westminster home, Ryall and Cambridge making an attack. The Victoria defence, including the goal-keeper, were drawn out, and Cambridge securing the ball, walked through the goal.

The Victorias, who had allowed the Westminsters to do the rushing in the first two games began a little fast playing themselves in the third game. For a time the ball passed from one end of the field to the other, Cheney, Stuart Campbell and Snell relieving for New Westminster, and W. and C. Cullin, Belfrey and the Williams brothers for Victoria. Patterson, Morton and Blight also did some fast work in the centre, having a number of spurts with Spain, Lewis and Pecle, honors being equally divided. Victoria assumed the aggressive, the field keeping the home well fed. After a series of attacks F. Cullin passed to Eckhardt, who was immediately surrounded by Westminster's defence, but he slid the ball to Macnaughton, who scored the game before the defence knew that it had left Eckhardt's stick. Eckhardt and Macnaughton were given an ovation, for this, the prettiest piece of work of the whole match. Time, 12 minutes.

Victoria had two games to one, their defence men were like a stone wall and the home players were not relaxing their stubborn and furious attack on the Westminster goal, which Cheney and Coldwell saved time and time again. Macnaughton, F. Cullin and Ditchburn kept up an almost incessant fire, while Morton, Blight and Patterson also took a hand, Eckhardt keeping the ball in Westminster's territory after the rustling behind the goal. McQuarrie, Spain, Ryal and Cambridge made an attack on Victoria's goal, which Morton relieved and the playing was continued in Westminster territory. F. Cullin scoring after some neat combination by Macnaughton and Ditchburn while Eckhardt attended to Cheney and Coldwell. Time, 4 1-2 minutes.

It was now growing dark, and with it rough play commenced. Victoria had 3 to 1 and could afford to play a defensive game, while Westminster went recklessly to work. The referee had to interfere several times. Belfry received a nasty knock in the head, for which time was called; then W. Cullin was hit on the wrist and a few minutes afterwards in the face. Spain and Cambridge were responsible for all blows, the former [illegible] particularly rough. It, however, spoiled any chance they had for the game, breaking up the combination that had been working well previous to this and placing the other members of the team at a disadvantage as the Victoria defence saw what they had to contend against and acted accordingly, keeping the ball in the field and using their bodies when it came to close quarters. Morton, Blight, the Williams brothers and Patterson played "catch" in the field for a time, sending it down to the home when opportunities offered. Westminster, however, woke up again and made several attacks on Victoria's goal. W. Cullin storming several shots in spite of the darkness. C. Cullin, Dalgleish, Morton and Spain got tangled up in the dark and were ruled off for rough play. Spain did not go off when ordered and the referee did not notice him until after the game was started but the whistle blew and Spain was ordered to the fence with a warning not to again disobey the referee. After some more passing from one end to the other, Ryall finally scored for Westminster, Cullin being unable to see the ball. Time, 15 minutes.

There was still about twenty minutes to play when the teams lined up for the sixth game. The players could not see the ball and the spectators could not distinguish the players. Patterson and Cheney picked out several sky-scrapers that no one else could see, but on the whole the game was beginning to look like a farce. Morton and Cambridge went after the ball together Morton receiving a terrible stroke on the temple that stunned him. He was carried to the dressing room perfectly limp. Much regret was expressed at this as Morton had been playing a steady and quiet game. He kept a close watch on his check but not once did anyone have an opportunity to complain of rough play on his part, although he was rather roughly handled by Spain and Cambridge. Cambridge was ruled off for hitting Morton. The latter not being able to play any longer, Victoria called Marshall out to go on in his place but the referee refused [illegible]. It was very shortly after this that Mr. Bowell refused to act as umpire any longer, it being too dark to see the ball. After some consideration Referee Quigley called the men off the field and reserved his decision.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

President Ellis of the Victoria team yesterday received a dispatch from Referee Quigley, in which the latter stated that he would not give a decision on the lines he promised on Saturday evening. Mr. Quigley distinctly stated on Saturday evening that if Victoria could produce telegram or letter in which Westminster agreed to start the game at 2 o'clock the match would be given to Victoria. When Mr. Mackenzie stated the telegrams would be forthcoming Mr. Quigley stated that was all he needed to give Victoria the match. Much surprise is expressed at the change that has come over him since the Victorians left Vancouver, as it was thought he had enough grit to withstand any influence that could be brought to bear on him to give an unjust decision, for most unjust and unfair it will be if it is against Victoria, who won the match without a shadow of a doubt.
